Professional Summary

I am a self taught developer with strong Angular 7, Javascript and problem solving skills.

A highly motivated, quick learner who has developed the below skill set in eight months of disciplined study. My first portfolio website evidences my HTML/CSS/JS skills (brightonWebDev.com). Now building a portfolio of single page applications with Angular 7, RxJS and NodeJS.

I have moved into computer programming from a background in social work where I delivered nationally recognised outcomes in preventing children entering the care system and reducing anti-social behaviour. As a keen problem solver I created and implement a service wide outcome monitoring system (Brighton) and streamlined archiving systems (Portsmouth).

Skills

Angular: I recently attended Angular training in London and a Typescript, Angular & RxJS bootcamp in Brussels. Now building a portfolio of SPAs.

Javascript: Strong Typescript, ES5, ES6 and JQuery scripting skills to validate forms, add interactivity to web pages and solve problems with algorithm scripting. Solid understanding of DOM manipulation, functional programming and object oriented programming.

Core skills: Clear understanding of HTTP protocol, AJAX and RESTful web services. Able to design responsive, optimised websites with CSS3, Flexbox, SASS and Bootstrap. Experienced Linux, command line and git user currently learning Node.js.

Transferable: Well developed communication, crisis management, problem-solving and analysis skills from 10 years experience in frontline child protection services.
